

School Mental Health Leadership Programme

Intermediate Level (DfE approved)

Bringing it all together

The impact of poor mental health on students, families and staff is well known however, developing a sustainable and strategic approach to providing support is a challenge.

This programme is designed for school leaders with responsibility for whole school responses. Within the academic year, leaders will have the opportunity to create and implement a strategic plan including: baseline assessments from governance to targeted provision and referrals. Action plans for development and direct and sustainable links to the school development plan.

By leaders for leaders

Our programme is designed and delivered by leaders in education and mental health.

It is important to us that the programme is both designed and delivered by those with real lived experience in delivering positive change in education environments and have a thorough understanding of effective support and intervention for mental health difficulties.

Course leaders and coaches include:

John Rees: National lead in developing policy and practice for PSHE and Healthy Schools.

Tony France: Specialist in early trauma, vulnerable children and families and former LA advisor.

John Reilly: Former head teacher for secondary and FE and specialist advisor for high needs provision.

Neil Hall: 20 years as a senior leader in secondary provision and executive head for primary.

Hayley Folley: A registered LD nurse and mental health practitioner with over 25 years experience of working with schools, children and families.

Bill Fox: Has extensive experience helping leaders through challenging changes and transitions and in creating positive and safe environments.
